

Little
muddy me

Raising Concerns (Whistle-blowing) Policy

We want to assure you that we take our responsibilities to your child very seriously and that your child will be cared for in the correct manner.

We enjoy caring for children and hope that you are confident with our abilities and that we meet your needs as a childcare setting.

It is therefore paramount that everyone within our setting feels able to raise any concerns that may arise.

Any members of staff within our setting with concerns regarding the way the children are being cared for, concerns regarding our abilities or that of another staff must report them without hesitation.

All concerns reported will be fully investigated.

It is important to us that anyone who has concerns regarding any aspect of our childcare setting, however small, feels able to approach us at any time. However, if you feel you are unable to discuss your concerns with us then you can alternatively discuss them with Ofsted (please see our Complaints Policy).

